Escarpment

I feel it's more important now than ever before to be painting the land because we are presently living in climate change and in this time of vulnerability it's an honour to witness some of the majesty and fragility that surrounds us.

In this series of paintings I've focused urgent large slabs of paint at some of my favourite places around Blackheath; Twin Falls and Anvil Rock. Looking closely at the wild energy of rock outcrops, distant escarpments, and canyons of air.
